Looks are very deceiving when it comes to your health. One of the reasons coronary disease is the nation's number one killer of men and women is that it hides its symptoms so well. Using a fast, painless procedure called Electron Beam Tomography, we can quickly and accurately detect coronary disease and a wide range of other serious health risks while they are in their very early and treatable stages.

At ViaScan of Las Colinas, we look at your complete inner self to provide you with the knowledge you need to prolong your life with early detection and treatment. We literally examine you from every angle and provide you with a full report of what we see in the same office visit. No needles, probes, dyes or fasting. Just everything you need to fight the real enemy confronting your health: ignorance.

Call us today at (972) 739-2840 to make an appointment, or visit our website to learn more about how our perfect blend of technology and medical experience can reveal the true picture of your health.

If an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, imagine how much health 2500 lbs. will get you.

Quite literally, what you don't know is going on inside your body can kill you without warning, even if you look and feel perfectly healthy. While there is constant debate among physicians over ways to reduce risk, they all agree on one key point: Early detection is the key to curing or reversing many of the life-threatening diseases and afflictions that can bring your life to a premature close.

ViaScan of Las Colinas is a medical practice devoted entirely to the early detection of life-threatening health risk using a state-of-the-art technology called Electron Beam Tomography (EBT). Using EBT, we can literally examine the inside of your body from every angle in a simple, painless procedure. No needles. No dyes. No fasting. Just everything you need to know to confront the most serious health risk of all: ignorance.

Following your EBT examination, a ViaScan physician will review the results with you in detail and provide you with guidance on any abnormalities or early indicators that were discovered. They'll also provide you with the necessary documentation you'll need for follow up treatment with a specialist or your regular physician. And it all takes place during the same convenient office visit.

Give us a call today at (972) 739-2840 to schedule an appointment, or visit our website to learn more about how our perfect blend of technology and
